THE MONASTERY comprises the ruins of an Augustine medieaval monastery established in 1163. Amongst the ruins is a rustic old mansion from 1841, where the workshop will be held. The monastery is part of Sunnhordland Museum, and is situated in beautiful surroundings on the island of Halsnøy at the inlet of the Hardanger fjord.

In recent years the Monastery has become a centre for arts and culture, offering concerts, exhibitions and other cultural activities.

The Monastery is now also becoming a centre for photography, by offering an international Artist-in-Residence program for photographers, and workshops.

We have close relations with the art school Sunnhordland Folkehøgskule, which offers studies in theater, dance, music, visual arts, sound production, and games design. The school is situated 5 minutes' walk from the monastery.

THE WORKSHOP

will focus on a personal approach to photography, whether you are looking for your own personal expression, or you are looking to hone the expression you have achieved.

There will be lectures, feedback on your work as we progress, and one-on-one sessions. We expect to have everybody staying at the mansion, and we will have all meals there.

In this way we believe that an intimate atmosphere in a unique setting will contribute to mutual creative inspiration for all.

PRICE: The cost of the workshop is NOK 6600,- (approx 760 Euros)

This includes your stay and all meals! The only other cost will be your travel.

If you wish to work on film, use of the darkroom (including chemicals) is free, but you will have to bring your own film and paper. The darkroom is situated in the basement.

TRAVEL: Halsnøy is fairly easily accessible by car, or by air if arriving via Haugesund (Ryanair), Bergen or Stord (via Oslo).

Please contact us for details about this.

As before mentioned, we will be staying at the mansion, which was home to the Juel family for more than 100 years. The mansion is now a museum, but there are 4 double rooms and 2 single rooms, of reasonable standard. There is a shared bathroom.

If necessary - or on request - we also have rooms available at the art school.

All lectures and all meals will be at the mansion.

We welcome you to challenging and interesting days in very special surroundings!
